A Timely Story

on Agriculture

in This Country

When the Arkansas Bankers association, the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, the local banks and the State Extension Service made their tour of the Vernon Brown farm at Spring Hill September 10 the St. Louis Federal Reserve distributed a pamphlet which told an inspiring story.

It was not entirely new, of course. Your correspondent had made the livestock photograph which the pamphlet used, more than a year earlier. Oliver L. Adams, Hempstead county farm agent, had been following the Browns' story for several seasons. And it was the Brown family who really made the story in the first place. Let's hear it as the pamphlet tells it.

"Agriculture in the upland areas of southwestern Arkansas is definitely shifting from a cotton economy into a more diversified livestock program. Changes in land use and crop production have been paralleled by an increase in the livestock population."

"The Vernon Brown farming experience in Hempstead county, Arkansas, illustrates the favorable income possibilities of livestock and some of the preparations necessary for the proper development of a livestock program in this area. In 1912 the Brown father and son partnership was operating on the cotton system typical of most farms in this area. Observing that their cotton yields were declining, they decided to try the dairy business. Early in 1913 they purchased four dairy cows and began to sell cream. This dairy enterprise immediately began to pay off and as pasture and hay crops were increased more cows were purchased. Twenty cows are now being milked and sufficient young stock kept for replacements."

"The year-by-year success story outlined in this booklet is the result of much hard work on the part of the partners. They also recognize the valuable assistance from the University of Arkansas Extension Service, the Soil Conservation Service, and the Production Administration in the form of materials and technical advice."

"The total value of crops and pasture produced increased from $843 in 1912 to $9,010 in 1947."

Bureaucrats Snarl DP Entries

The plight of Europe's displaced persons, which has been pitiable enough at best, now seems to be worse than ever. A few months ago Congress passed a bill to admit 205,000 of these fugitives from communism. The bill was widely criticized as inadequate in the number involved and discriminatory in its restrictions. But at least it was a bill. Now comes word from the International Refugee Organization in Geneva, Switzerland, that the movement of DPs to America has stopped dead.

Apparently the trouble lies in the bureaucratic approach to the problem by our consular staffs in Munich, Frankfurt and Stuttgart. President Truman issued a directive last year to facilitate the clearance of some of these unfortunates for passage to the United States. Relief organizations in Germany report that 1500 have been investigated, cleared, processed and found eligible for visas under that directive.

But, with the new law, the consulates insisted on doing the whole job over again. The consulates do not accept the security clearance of the U.S. Army Counter Intelligence or the eligibility clearance of the IRO. They insist on making their own duplicate investigations.

Meanwhile the refugees, many of whom are high-type, well-educated persons who possess a variety of valuable skills, exist in a state of semi-freedom. They have no homes, few possessions, and few adequate jobs. Their food and clothing are assured to them. They are a continuing source of expense to this country, and their presence adds another burden to the already heavy task that confronts our authorities in Germany.

It would be to the advantage of all concerned if the machinery for getting them here could be speeded up. But as delay continues and time passes, the job that this machinery must do becomes harder. The fifth rate in the DP camps reportedly surpasses the losses from deaths and departures. And most of Germany's anti-Continued on page two

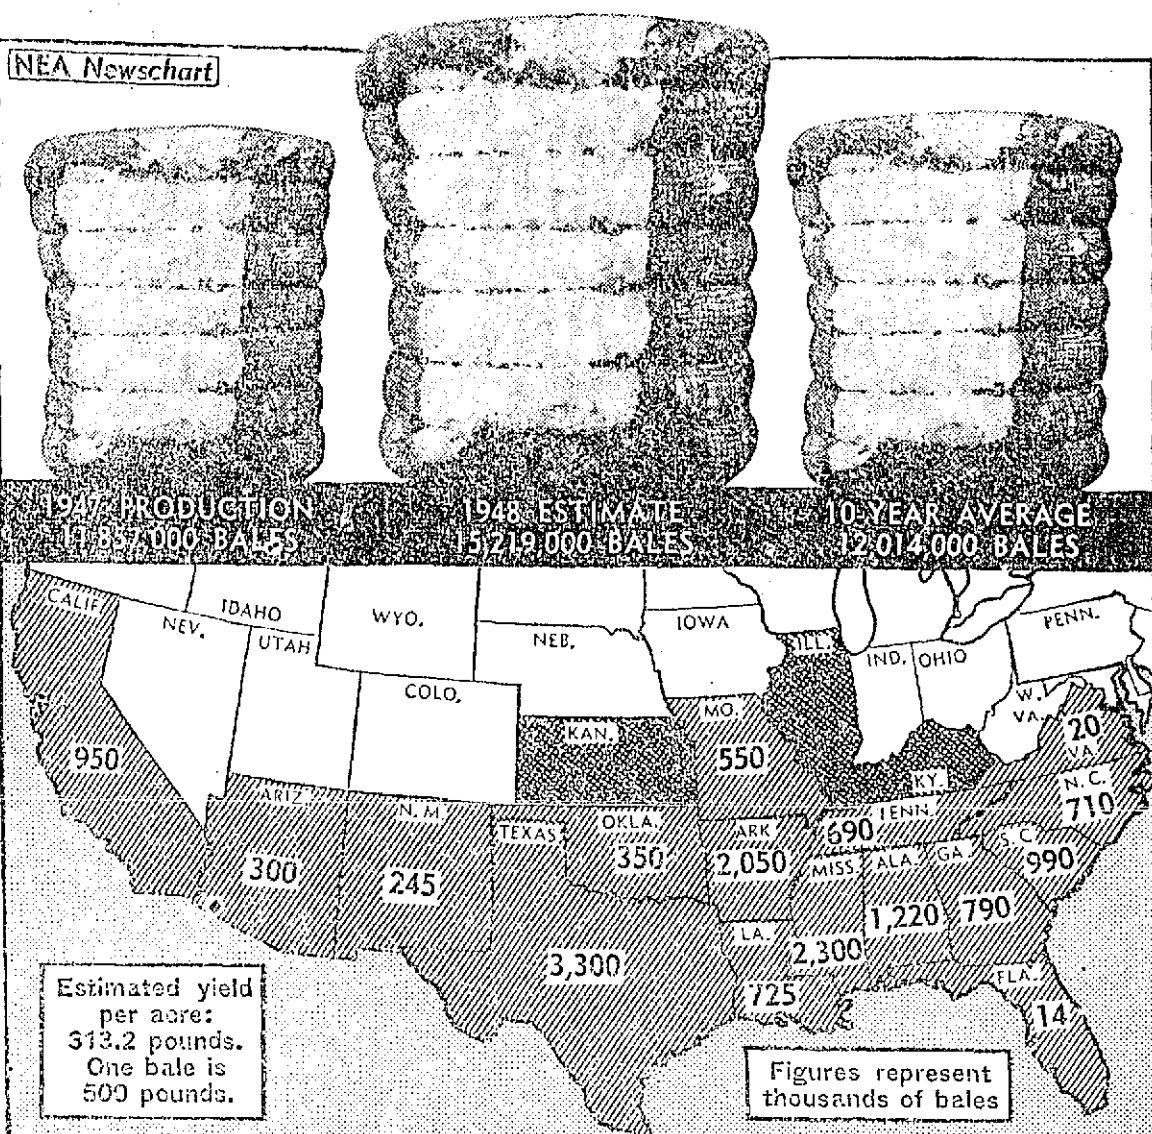

150 Attend Kiwanis Ladies Night

Approximately 150 attend at the Kiwanis Club's annual Ladies Night at Fair park exhibit hall last night.

Ten members of the Little Rock club presented the program which featured O. L. Baker who talked on "Key Clubs" a youth organization sponsored by Kiwanis. Other speakers included Mrs. R. E. An. In addition, a number of members to attend the Little Rock District Convention at the Little Rock on September 26-29.

Barbecue chicken, prepared by Dewey Baker, was top course on the night's menu.

See Biggest Cotton Crop Since 1937

The Department of Agriculture's September estimate puts the 1948 cotton crop at 15,219,000 bales, the largest yield since 1937. On Newschart above, expected 1948 crop is compared with last year's and the average of the 10 years 1937-46. Figures on map are 1948 estimate for individual states, except three in dark shading. Their combined production is estimated at 15,000,000 bales.

U. S. Trying to Break Up 'Big Four' Meat Packing Firms Into 14 Companies

Washington, Sept. 15.—(AP)—The government sued today to break up the "big four" meat packing companies into 14 separate and competing companies.

A civil anti-trust suit filed in federal court in Chicago, alleged that the "big four" packers—Swift and Company, Armour and Company, the Cudahy Packing Company, and Wilson and Company, had conspired to suppress competition.

The suit asked that Armour and Swift be divided into five separate companies, and Cudahy and Wilson each be divided into two separate companies.

Attorney General Clark announced filing of the suit in Chicago. The four defendants named in the complaint are charged with suppressing competition in the sale of meat and meat products, Clark said in a statement.

Clark said the suit is aimed at dividing the big four packers into 14 separate and competing companies. "The four defendants named in the complaint are charged with suppressing competition in the sale of meat and meat products," Clark said in a statement.

UN Receives Problem of Italy Colonies

Rome, Sept. 15.—(AP)—The problem of what to do about Italy's peculiar empire in Africa went to the United Nations today for decision.

Representatives of the Big Four powers—Russia, the United States, Britain and France—were wrangled over the question and a decision was not reached.

By the terms of the Italian peace treaty, signed a year ago by the defeated nation, Italy's empire in Africa was to be divided among the Big Four powers.

At the time of the treaty, the Big Four powers were in a state of conflict and no decision was reached.

Bell Already Has Rate Hike Says Worker

By LEON HATCH

Little Rock, Sept. 15.—(AP)—A Southern Bell Telephone Company employee said today the company had in effect already received a rate increase.

He is G. J. Vande Steeg, St. Louis, engineer for eastern Missouri and Arkansas.

The engineer returned to the witness stand as a second hearing by the Arkansas Public Service Commission on Southern Bell's application for an estimated $1,800,000 annual rate increase in Arkansas entered its second day.

Vande Steeg was being cross-examined by William H. Cobb, commission engineer.

"Isn't it true," Cobb asked, "that the telephone company already has received a rate increase?"

"Yes, that's right," the witness replied.

"What does that mean," Cobb asked, "in terms of the quality of service?"

In his interrogation Cobb emphasized through the witness that telephone exchange equipment had been subjected to additional loads.

Vande Steeg testified that the burden on central office equipment had been increased from approximately 85 per cent to approximately 91 per cent of its capacity.

Cobb attempted to show that because of this "overloading," a subscriber was getting poorer service than that for which he paid.

But Vande Steeg testified that the overloading was decided on deliberately as being a better policy than depriving potential subscribers of telephone service.

At the time of the cross-examination at Vande Steeg's testimony, Cobb asked: "What does that mean?"

Truman Wins Victory in Texas

Fort Worth, Tex., Sept. 15.—(AP)—The Democratic party of Texas has house-cleaned itself of members and especially leaders who would not pledge themselves to total party loyalty.

The complete party-line purification and formal certification of Lyndon B. Johnson as nominee for United States senator were the chief accomplishments of yesterday's 12-hour state convention.

Just before midnight, convention officials sent Johnson's certification by registered mail to the secretary of state at Austin. This, Johnson's attorneys said, was to forestall possible legal action by Coke Stevenson, defeated in the senate race by a record-breaking close margin of 87 votes.

It took the Truman forces five hours to beat the stubborn State Rights minority down and sweep into control with two clear-cut victories on test votes. Then they elected Lyndon B. Johnson as nominee for United States senator.

35 U. S. Soldiers Enroute Home Die in Wreck

Seoul, Sept. 15.—(AP)—A Fast passenger train crashed out of a tunnel last night crashing into another train halted on the track killing 35 U. S. soldiers enroute home.

Two Koreans were killed and 124 persons were injured including 40 American troops. They were bound for Seoul from Pusan (Fusan).

Witnesses said the fast train from Mokpo to Seoul which had no headlight telescoped the rear of the troop train which had no rear light.

One passenger on the soldiers' train likened the wreck and subsequent fire to a Dante's inferno. Rescue workers worked all night digging out the dead and injured.

The 25 American bodies were buried here early today. The injured were treated by American and Korean doctors and many of them were able to continue their journey.

Charles McCafferty of Chicago, a passenger said the engineer of the troop train apparently did not see the other train until it was 30 yards away.

The engine plowed half way into the rear coach from which most of the passengers had jumped when the troop train roared from the tunnel.

The rear coach was ripped from its tracks and shoved into the coach ahead where most of the casualties occurred.

"We saw the train come out of the tunnel about 1000 yards away," said McCafferty, a labor relations adviser to the military government in the American zone.

"We yelled to the passenger and all got off except one man in the washroom who was not hurt seriously."

Army officials said relatives of the dead were being notified out of it may be necessary to bring personal records from outlying detachments to complete identifications.

London, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin told the House of Commons today the Communists are following a plan aimed at seizing southeast Asia.

The Communists' aim is to "try to drive every Western association out of that territory, in trade and everything else," Bevin declared.

Bevin, explaining the current Communist uprising in Burma and Malaya, said:

"This problem has been going on ever since the post-World War II era. It is a problem of the East-West relationship, not merely in Malaya but elsewhere. It is part and parcel of the clash between two philosophies which will keep breaking out everywhere that it can."

Hours before Bevin's appearance in the House, the foreign office announced that his statement on international affairs would contain no mention of the Berlin crisis or East-West negotiations now in progress in Moscow.

Disagreed With Marshall, Faces Charge

Washington, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Robert C. Alexander, who disagreed with Secretary of State Marshall over the danger of admitting Communists to this country through the United Nations, has been charged with misconduct and neglect of duty.

The State department has presented the charges in a letter to Alexander, who is assistant chief of the visa division.

Officials said the action is the first of a series of steps which could lead to disciplinary action, possibly including dismissal.

Alexander and two other visa division officials testified before Senate judiciary committee investigators two months ago that there was a threat of the national security in the admission to the U. S. of aliens from Communist-controlled countries as employees of the United Nations.

Subsequently Secretary of State Marshall told a news conference he knew of no case in which investigation had showed that there was any such threat.

Marshall named a committee of three Washington citizens, however, to investigate the situation. Their report presumably lays the basis for some of the charges which the department has formally brought.

This report said Alexander and his associates "had never made a persistent effort" to bring to the attention of top department officials the condition about which they testified they were disturbed.

The committee also said that their testimony was "irresponsible in its lack of factual support."

The filing of charges probably will intensify the controversy. Continued on page two

95 Policemen Injured by French Strikers

Paris, Sept. 15.—(AP)—A strike crowd of 4,500 rushed the National Aviation offices in Central Paris today and injured 95 policemen in rioting.

An estimated 2,500 of the crowd were workers of the nationalized aviation industry, demanding recognition of workers from the government payroll. Another 2,000 strikers from the nationalized Renault Auto plant joined them.

They threw paving stones and bars of iron grillwork at the police who fought back with night sticks and fists. About 2,000 Paris police and two squads of mobile gendarmes fought off the strikers on the Boulevard Haussmann. The riot flared for two hours, subsided and then was renewed.

Members of the communist-led General Federation of Labor at the same time organized a demonstration at Boulogne to demand a minimum monthly wage of 13,500 francs ($48).

Some 40,000 workers of the Renault motor plant voted to go out this afternoon.

Unemployment Pay Figures to Be Given

The Arkansas Employment Security Division has reversed its previous stand of refusing to disclose to six local companies the payment record on unemployment benefits charged to their accounts, but will give out the information from the state office at Little Rock instead of the Hope district office. It was announced today.

Last Saturday the six companies obtained from Circuit Judge Dexter Dush a temporary order to compel the Hope district office to make public the benefits record of former employees—but in view of the new action by the state office the order against the district office will not be enforced, at least for the time being, it was said today.

An employers' statement released this morning said:

"Luke Arnett of Little Rock, attorney for the Arkansas Unemployment Compensation Division of the State of Arkansas, after for several days in length in Hope on Tuesday with attorney and agent for eleven Southwest Arkansas business firms who last week filed suit against the Hope District Employment Office, and Teddy Jones its manager, sought to force the local office to furnish certain records of the firms concerning claims filed against the interest firms by former employees seeking unemployment compensation."

"Judge Dexter Dush, in a hearing at Texarkana Saturday, issued an order requiring the district office to turn over the records of information from its records on a temporary basis and on Monday, October 4, 1948, as the date for a final hearing at Hope to determine whether or not the order should be made permanent."

"Judge Dush's conference Jack Williamson, president of the local firms, said that Mr. Arnett had offered to make all the desired information available through the central office in Little Rock. He further stated that in view of that commitment the temporary order against the local office and Mr. Jones would not be issued and at least for the time being, in order to see whether or not the Little Rock office made good on its promise."

"It does not make any difference to us where the information comes from as long as it is prompt and correct," Mr. Williamson said.

"The hearing on the matter in Hope will be held on the first day of the regular October term of the Hempstead Circuit Court."

India Throws Chutists Into Province Fight

New Delhi, Sept. 15.—(AP)—India threw parachute troops into the invasion of Hyderabad today and captured Hyderabad, 84 miles from the capital. The drive was from the west.

The second largest city of the princely state, Aurangabad, and its environs surrendered in the night, giving India virtually all that corner of the state, the defense ministry said.

Military informants in Madras said they thought Indian troops might reach Hyderabad City and suburbs under cover of Thursday or Friday. This would virtually end the fighting, which stemmed from the refusal of the wealthy Moslem nizam to join his state to the Indian union.

India asserted when its troops struck into the south central state a dawn Monday that disorder was rife and the will of the people, 60 per cent of whom are Hindus, was being thwarted.

A Karachi dispatch said Hyderabad natives started stiff fighting on the border of Berar, which joins the state on the north. Hyderabad claimed 2,000 of its irregular troops repulsed an Indian attack near Hospet in the southwest.

Indians striking toward the capital and Secunderabad from the east were said to have advanced within 75 miles of their goal. Aircraft strafed the defenders. A military spokesman said no Hyderabad planes have been seen in battle, although the state has some.

The spokesman said the important railroad of Khammamet, 110 miles east of Hyderabad city, is expected to fall at any time.

From Madras, where they have been driving against it from the south from Bezwa.

A defense ministry spokesman announced the capture of Aurangabad and this was supported by field dispatches.

In urging Signal Corps officers of the Reserve Component in the Hope area to apply for extended active duty, M. St. Parker said such applications should be directed to the Adjutant General through the office of the local instructor of the Organized Reserves.

Locals Attend Nevada Fair Opening

Nevada county's 12th annual fair opened today at 10 a.m. with a parade through the downtown streets. The fair will extend through Saturday.

Participating in the parade were dozens of Hope horsemen and livestock association boosters and the Hope High School band. Schools in Prescott were dismissed for the day to allow students to attend the fair.

from Czechoslovakia to swell the ranks of refugees from the other Iron Curtain camp is only a symptom of this sorry situation is not the fault of the American people. On the contrary, immigration authorities in this country say that there is a great demand for DP's from many communities and employers. And certainly they should be just the people we want. They have experienced the terror of life under Soviet domination and they could and surely would offer some strong rebuttals to the claims of Communists and Soviet apologists in our midst.

Yet an observer in Germany says that it is easier for a former Nazi to enter this country than it is for persons who have suffered under the dictatorships of both Hitler and Stalin. If the situation is even half as bad as reported, it is a pity that the government has not taken a quick investigation and find out why its decisions, as represented in the DP bill, are being either ignored or badly misinterpreted.

which has been going on between Chairman Revercomb (R-W. Va.) of the judiciary subcommittee and Marshall. The secretary has thus far denied Revercomb's investigation access to the department's visa files which concern aliens attached to the United Nations.

Alexander declined to comment to a reporter on the charges. He said any statement would have to come from his attorney.

Indications were that Alexander would base his defense on the contention that civil service employees are entitled to protection against retaliatory action by their departmental superiors after they have been in a congressional committee.

Alexander has been employed by the department since 1917.

The presentation of charges is the first step in a series of moves toward possible disciplinary action against Alexander.

He has the right to reply fully. If he wants he may obtain a public hearing before Arch K. Jean, department chief of personnel, who stated the charges in a letter sent Alexander on Sept. 9.

In the third step the department will decide action called for on the basis largely of the answers which Alexander makes to the complaints.

It may then take no action, issue a reprimand, order some disciplinary measure such as suspension or decree dismissal.

Officials hinted that in view of Alexander's long service in the department, a suspension of a year probably would not be recommended.

Alexander finally has the right of an appeal to the Civil Service Commission to determine whether proper procedures were followed.

The commission has no right to reverse the decision unless there is evidence of improper handling. Then a new action might be ordered.

As the department took this action, investigators said they intend to make a test case of the contempt action they voted to bring against Communist Steve Nelson.

"If the U. N. acts quickly and acts with authority it will not only do a considerable service to its own reputation but will perhaps save a vast area of the world's surface from untold suffering and human misery," Eden said.

The U. N. Security Council is due to take up the Hyderabad situation tomorrow in Paris.

Eden said Communist uprisings in Malaya, Burma and Siam are "all in pattern."

"Its objective is to overthrow law and order throughout southeast Asia which I think is a once called the back door of capitalist and imperialist power."

Bevin said he regretted that in these new dominions "this warlike spirit has developed."

Bevin said that in Malaya, the British have "a difficult task to put an end to these terrorist gangs. We are under no delusion as to what is involved." He went on:

"The trouble in Malaya is that scores of the population, mainly Chinese Communists, have been given special assignments to go in and organize this trouble. The problem is a difficult and vexing one but the government have no intention of yielding to this terror. It may mean that if this policy of stirring civil war as instrument of foreign policy goes on—I repeat, it goes on as it has gone on ever since the war closed, first in one territory and then in another—one can foresee to what it will lead the nations who are promoting it."

"Speaking for Britain and the Commonwealth, we are now seized with the effects of this policy and wherever it carries its ugly head we shall do our best to stamp it out, using the maximum of our resources to do it. If we do not, there will never be the settlement of peace or the establishment of harmony in the world."

Threat to 4 Seats Spurs GOP Drive

Washington, Sept. 15 —(AP)— The Republican high command stepped up its senatorial campaign today spurred by an AFL challenge and confidential reports that Democrats are in a tight race for four key GOP seats.

Senator Canebrake of Indiana told a reporter he has accepted an invitation to join Gov. Throckmold in the GOP presidential nominee race and he can to the party's Senate candidates.

The Indiana senator said it will be his job to see that the GOP nominees in Iowa, Colorado and New Mexico get together with the New York senator for strategy conferences. He predicted that an "overwhelming" victory for Dewey will help the Republicans retain control of the Senate.

Their hold there now is slim with only a 45 margin over the Democrats—a margin that would be overturned if the GOP suffers a net loss of four seats.

The AFL served notice yesterday that it intends to fight for the defeat of at least eight Republicans in senatorial campaigns.

Senators Henry Dworak of Idaho, Joseph H. Ball of Minnesota, C. E. Palmer of Illinois, Edward V. Robertson of Wyoming, C. C. B. of West Virginia, and George Wilson of Iowa, are among the GOP candidates.

Senators Patrick J. Hurley of New Mexico and Ross H. H. of Oklahoma are also in the race. It was learned meanwhile that reports to the GOP campaign committee indicate that Revercomb, Ball, Robertson and Hurley all face uphill battles. There reports give Republicans the edge in Illinois and Iowa and about an even chance in Kentucky—areas regarded by the GOP as danger spots.

On the other hand, the Republicans are said to believe they have a good chance to knock off a Democrat in Montana about an even chance to capture another Democratic seat in Colorado and a somewhat lesser chance of winning one in New Mexico.

Dewey is expected all of these states, including West Virginia, where Revercomb is having a tough battle with Matthew M. Neely, the Democratic nominee.

Dewey is expected to spend some time on his way back from the Pacific Coast in Montana, where he is having his troubles with Gov. Lester C. Hunt, the Democratic nominee.

And Dewey's visit to Oklahoma probably will have to wait until later. Most Republicans think that a national sweep by Dewey would give Hurley, his nominee there, a chance to beat former Gov. Robert S. Kerr, Democrat, for the seat being vacated by Republican Senator Moor.

Man Without Country Widens World

Paris, Sept. 15 —(AP)— Garry Davis, the man without a country who is taking refuge in the United Nations assembly area, widened his little world today.

The 26-year-old American war-time bomber pilot son of orchestra leader Meyer Davis, ventured halfway across a boulevard separating the new U. N. restaurant-meeting halls of the Palais de his squating place — from the Champs-Élysées.

Davis, who gave up American citizenship to be a "citizen of the world," had understood previously that the boulevard was French territory and he had scrupulously avoided stepping on it since the French government refused to renew his visa.

But this morning an artist brought an abstractionist painting around for Davis to autograph. At the request of photographers, he stepped on it and had his picture taken.

Davis said he now has been assured by a U. N. official that the street was legally inviolable under the "extra-territoriality" granted by France to the U. N. for the duration of the general assembly opening next Tuesday.

The U. N. legal department said the street is part of the assembly area. Davis can cross safely to the doorstep of the meeting hall.

Davis went back to his squating on the restaurant steps, and said, grinning: "I am expanding my world." He is not allowed to eat in the restaurant but said he was being "fed by humanity."

Small groups crowd around to hear Davis' speeches for a federalized world without passports.

Although U. N. officials are privately concerned over what to do about Davis, they have made no move to eject him.

yellow cereal contract dropped more than 5 cents.

New crop corn futures acted well despite the drop in September, a cash, the one dropped from September to December contracts, selling the former and buying the later. Corn bookings totaled around 170,000 bushels while spot market prices slipped about 2 to 3 cents a bushel.

There was not much activity in wheat, oats or rye, but they were ahead for small fractions most of the day. Land fell with a drop of oats and oil prices in Eastern markets.

Wheat closed 1-4 lower to 1-8 higher, September $2.24 1-2. September corn ended 6 to 6 1-8 cents lower at $1.67 1-2 1-4 while deferred futures were unchanged to 5-8 lower. Oats were unchanged to 1-2 higher, September 72 7-8 3-4, and soybeans 5 to 5 1-2 lower, November $2.50.

Cash wheat held steady today; basis steady; receipts 14 cars. Corn was three to four cents lower; basis easier; bookings 172,000 bushels; shipping sales 10,000 bushels; receipts 76 cars. Oats were unchanged to a cent higher; basis steady; shipping sales 150,000 bushels; receipts 19 cars. Soybean receipts were six cars.

Eye-Witness Gives Account of Chamberlain's Attempt to Appease Adolph Hitler

By DeWITT MacKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The following is the first of three articles on the anniversary of British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's world-rocking attempt to appease Hitler as eye-witnessed by the writer.

This day ten years ago your columnist boarded a chartered plane in London and pursued Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain who was flying to Adolf Hitler's Alpine retreat at Berchtesgaden in the British statesman's first efforts at appeasing the Nazi dictator.

That was the beginning of three tense weeks which changed the history of the world. These dramatic days were part of my journalistic life and I venture to recall them briefly in our column because after only one decade we again are faced with an international situation having momentous potentialities.

The 69-year-old Chamberlain — on honest and high-minded but a likely statesman — flew to Berchtesgaden in an effort to "try to find a peaceful solution to the crisis" which was menacing world tranquility. The phrase "peace in our time" was an irresistible magnet and so the faint gray gentle old man made a date with the mad-dog dictator.

War seemed to be approaching with terrible swiftness. Anthony Eden who had resigned his position as prime minister's policy was insisting that concessions to dictators "are not the way to peace."

On September 12 Hitler made an angry speech demanding "self-determination" for the Sudeten Germans in Western Czechoslovakia. Britain had a mission in Prague to mediate between the Sudeten Germans and the Czechoslovak government but its efforts collapsed. There was bloody fighting near the German border between Czechoslovak gendarmes and Sudeten Germans.

The British cabinet met in emergency session.

It was in this tense atmosphere that Chamberlain telegraphed Hitler for a conference which the Fuehrer set for Berchtesgaden. French Premier Daladier had urged Chamberlain to make the effort. France pinned her hope of peace on this fateful parley.

So the two chiefs of government met in the Fuehrer's "castle" on a peak rising from the sweet valley of Berchtesgaden through which ran the trout stream which Reichsmarschall Hermann Goering stocked for himself. Within a few hours the little old-world Hamlet was jammed with correspondents from many points of Europe. Telegraph and telephone facilities were utterly inadequate to deal with the press messages.

However we managed to tell our story of the three-hour conference and I find from the files that I reported as follows:

It was clear to observers that if peace grew from the conference it would be predicated on the sacrifice by Czechoslovakia of some Sudeten territory to Germany. The supposition in informed circles was that Chamberlain would take back a proposal relating to the annexation of Sudeten Germans by Hitler.

Time confirmed this. However the communiqué issued at the end of the conversation merely said that there had been "an extended frank exchange of views" and that there would be another meeting.

Chamberlain returned to London the next day. He was met at the airport by a big crowd which greeted him with cries of "good old Neville" as a mark of ap-

Farmer Sentenced to Life by Jackson Jury

Newport, Sept. 15 —(AP)— George Washington Hunt, 66, has been sentenced to life imprisonment by a Jackson county circuit jury.

Hunt, a tenant farmer, was convicted yesterday of first degree murder in the shooting of his neighbor, Napoleon Winkles, 70, who was found shot to death in his home near here March 28. The jury deliberated 27 minutes yesterday.

lographers in the fighting yesterday.

At about 7:30 a. m., President Jim Stanley of the striking CIO oil workers broadcast an announcement to non-strikers, inside the gates since yesterday, that they could "leave now if you want."

"This is a last announcement to this effect," he said.

There was no immediate response.

In a reference to yesterday's conference of CIO and AFL representatives, designed to avoid a recurrence of yesterday's outbreak, the CIO union announced: "Apparently the truce is being observed this morning."

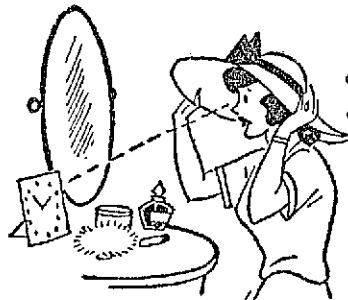

Negotiations between the oil workers and the truck companies continued in San Francisco and in Los Angeles with no agreement, yet in sight. Federal and state conciliators were participating in an attempt to bring the two sides together.

The chief issue was a union demand for 21 cents an hour wage increase against an employer offer of 12 1-2 cents.

No appreciable shortage in gasoline was yet noticeable, although purchases were limited to five gallons per car in some areas. Company spokesmen said supplies will remain at about 75 per cent of normal.

The Doctor Says:

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Kidney stones are most frequent between the age of 25 and 49, though they may appear at almost any time. Several possible causes have been suggested, including chronic infection, deficiencies of certain vitamins, and slowing of the circulation in the kidney. The most probable explanation, however, is that there is some kind of disturbance in the excretion of certain salts which are ordinarily carried in liquid form in the urine.

The location of the stone can be discovered by proper equipment and use of the X-ray. It is possible to assist in the passage of the stone by oiling or other measures. When the pain is severe, the patient must be relieved and this involves the use of pain-killing drugs, sometimes in large quantities. Indeed, the pain of kidney stones is frequently extremely severe, and is liable to be one of the worst to which man can be subjected.

Look for Others

Once the stone has passed or been removed, an effort should be made to find out whether other stones are present in the portion of the kidney where most of them are formed. Unfortunately, even if stones are found there, there is not much which can be done in most cases except to hope that any remaining ones which start to move will pass painlessly.

A stone which has passed should be studied to find out how it is made up. If it consists of crystals of oxalic or phosphoric acid, for example, the urine has to be kept acid by diet. If the stone is made up of the more rare uric acid material, then the urine has to be kept alkaline. It is important to know what kind of stones are involved so that the doctor can tell which foods should be allowed and which forbidden. Chronic infections should be treated. Sometimes vitamins added to the diet are helpful. As yet there is no simple medicine which will dissolve them.

Hollywood Area Survives Bombing Attack

Los Angeles, Sept. 14 — (AP) — Beverly Hills, Hollywood and downtown Los Angeles have survived a bombing attack. Perfume was the intended weapon.

Ten planes swooped over the three areas yesterday and released what the perfume manufacturer said was $200,000 worth of his choice product. It sells at $18 an ounce over the counter.

Each pilot was accompanied by a perfume gunner, scantily clad in black satin and sheer nylon. The gunners were members of a model agency.

But the stunt backfired. The idea man failed to reckon with Los Angeles smog (smoke and fog) and a drop was snuffed by residents of Beverly Hills, Los Angeles and Hollywood where it probably wouldn't have been noticed anyhow.

At last reports, prevailing winds were carrying it out to sea.

Wallace Gets Money for Campaign

Washington, Sept. 14 — (UP) — Almost a score of Henry A. Wallace's supporters have shored up with campaign contributions in chunks of $1,000 or more, official records showed today.

Many times that number of Democrats and Republicans made big contributions to their parties' campaign coffers, according to reports filed with the clerk of the House. But in the case of all three parties, the largest share of their money came in the form of $1 to $100 contributions.

The reports, covering the period Jan. 1 through Aug. 31, showed that during those months all the parties operated in the red. The Wallace Progressive party showed the biggest deficit.

Reports filed by both the Progressive party and the National Wallace for President committee revealed that the biggest individual contribution was received from Bernard L. Klein of New York, who handed over $3,500.

Democrats could boast of the largest individual contributions. Poor persons gave $5,000 each. They were W. Averell Harriman, roving ambassador for the Economic Cooperation Administration; Mrs. W. L. Clayton, wife of the former undersecretary of state; the M. Hoffman New York, and W. D. Pawley, Miami Beach. Clayton himself bequeathed his family to $3,000 with a personal contribution of $4,000.

Administration officials and former officials showed up among the Democratic money-givers. These included Housing Administrator Tamm E. Woods, Assistant Secretary of Treasury Edward H. Fisher, Jr., and former Food Commissioner Chief Charles Luskman. The Republicans' top contribution fell short of the record for either of the other two parties. This was $2,000 each donated by William T. Grant and Louis Cushman of New York. However, eight members of the Dagmont family — contributing individually — turned over a total of $15,000.

Among celebrities contributing to the Wallace cause were Libby Holman, Broadway singer and wife of a top-grossing movie star, $500 and Milton Hoffman, playwright, also $500.

Hitchcock Awaits Judge Decision

Dayton Beach, Fla., Sept. 14 — (UP) — Francis Hitchcock and Stephanie Saja today saw their fairy-tale romance turn to a suspense story, with a county judge the central figure.

Hitchcock, the wealthy socialite who wooed and won the coal-miner's daughter, is awaiting word of the verdict from his attorneys 200 miles away. The decision, when handed down, could free him from his present wife — on his terms or hers.

His divorce from Marie Grammer Hitchcock depended on Judge C. E. Chilesworth of West Palm Beach, who pondered the merits of his suit and Mrs. Hitchcock's counter-suit, both asking divorce.

Mrs. Hitchcock alleged that she had secured a $100,000 trust fund for another woman in 1943, that he had sought to borrow money to have "convenient funds for his women friends", and that she once found him and another woman nude in his Palm Beach home.

Chilesworth said the judge might attach said the judge a decision. Only after it is given may Hitchcock go ahead with wedding plans for himself and Miss Saja, who left a Pennsylvania coal town for a career in New York.

At the time the divorce was made, and a license had been obtained by the bridegroom. The judge who issued it thought it was still effective, even though Hitchcock had applied as a divorced man, free to wed.

The present Mrs. Hitchcock appeared in person at a hearing on the suit last week. Hitchcock did not appear, but an attorney represented him.

He had charged her with mental cruelty in a suit filed in April, she gained a dismissal, he filed an amended suit, and she replied with a counter-suit alleging adultery and extreme mental cruelty on his part.

At the beach cottage of Col. Archie Wall here, everything was in readiness for the wedding as soon as word of divorce should be received. The guests were invited, a reception planned, and a marriage banquet — date unsettled — arranged for.

It would be the first marriage for 23-year-old Miss Saja, a New York working girl, and the third for Hitchcock, 39. His first marriage to Mary Atwell, ended in divorce some years ago.

DOROTHY DIX Mercenary Romeo

Dear Miss Dix: I am crowding you into my life. He has been married and divorced and has had a common law wife. He has been going with a widow and supposedly was engaged to her, but the affair terminated suddenly and he immediately started to rush me. He talks disparagingly of her and says that all she wanted was his money. I happen to know that she doesn't need his money, is attractive and of good character, and I am wondering if she didn't drop him.

He is very much interested in my financial affairs and asks if I would continue to work if we got married, and I find he has made inquiries as to my parental financial status. I am very anxious to marry, as I have a horror of being an old maid. What do you think of my chances of happiness with such a man?

MARTHA

Answer: Absolutely zero. I don't think you have a chance in the world of being happy with a man who seems to have neither morals nor principles nor any good qualities that would recommend him as a husband.

If you marry this man, he will expect you to keep on with your job and support him, and he will have no hesitation in taking your pay envelope from you and spending on himself the money you have earned. And he will nag your parents about money and humiliate you in every possible way.

Braves Appear Unstoppable in Pennant Drive

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

With a five-game lead and only 18 games left to play, the Boston Braves appear unstoppable in the National League pennant drive today. It seems that only a major no-nonsense would deprive the Braves of their first pennant since the "miracle team" of 1914.

As for hitting a serious slump, Manager Billy Southworth isn't worried. He has the best remedy possible in his double "S" stoppers—Johnny Sain and Warren Spahn.

Sain and Spahn, the Mr. Right and Mr. Left respectively of the Braves' mound staff, are rolling in high gear. The Braves have won eight out of their last nine starts and Sain and Spahn have won five of these games.

Sain, a big tobacco chewing right-hander with one of the best curve balls in the business, led the Braves to a 10-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs yesterday.

The triumph enabled the Braves to pull five games ahead of the Golden Bears who have lost three of their last four games, taking all inter-sectional encounters, licking Stephens F. Austin and trimming Arkansas in the conference race.

Baylor will have its best team this year and might beat the twenty-nine lettermen, even from a team that finished last in the conference race means enough experience to be taken seriously. Baylor really had a good season, materially aided last year when the Golden Bears won half their games, taking all inter-sectional encounters, licking Stephens F. Austin and trimming Arkansas in the conference race.

Baylor May Be Giant Killer of Loop

(This is another in a series discussing Southwest conference football prospects.)

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Waco, Tex., Sept. 15.—(AP)—Baylor has most of the giant-killer class, is something of a giant itself and should reach mature stature this season in Southwest Conference football.

Coach Bud Woodruff's rebuilding program, now in its second year, has produced a team to be respected. It can not be figured as a championship contender but it can tear down a lot of air castles for those that are.
